RURAL FINANCIAL COUNSELLING SERVICE NSW NORTHERN REGION

Position Vacant

Rural Financial Counselling Service NSW Northern Region (RFCNSW-NR) is seeking to employ two (2) Rural Financial Counsellors to service the Moree and Tenterfield regions and surrounds.

The successful applicants will reside in or close by the selected locations - Moree and Tenterfield.

It is expected the successful applicants will commence no later than mid December 2022 for a Full-Time contract to 30/6/2023 then 12-month contract available.

RFCNSW-NR provides confidential, free and impartial rural and small business financial counselling services to primary producers, fishers, small rural businesses and small businesses experiencing financial difficulties.

The positions scope includes:

The RFCS assists Eligible Clients and aims to:

- transition clients out of financial crisis
- improve clients' business profitability or facilitate a dignified exit; and
- improve clients' financial well-being and resilience.

Through the RFCS Program, financial counselling is provided free of charge to Eligible Clients, however, mutual obligations apply and Eligible Clients are expected to:

- actively engage with their counsellor, with case managed clients demonstrating their willingness to consider longer term business changes;
- increase their understanding of their business's financial situation and alternative opportunities to improve their financial position;
- increase their financial and business skills, knowledge and competence to reassess and/or establish their medium to long-term business goals and strategies; and
- start implementing these strategies to be on a trajectory to either improve their business's profitability and viability, to pass the business onto a successor, or to sell their business.

The RFCS will enable these changes through case management and effective and efficient client engagement, providing free rural financial counselling to Eligible Clients with a focus on the case management approach.

Case management

The successful applicants would be expected to understand case management and how to apply that to eligible clients. This approach is expected to encourage behavioural change and drive decision making for positive outcomes.

Within a case management framework, the role of the counsellor includes helping clients:

- understand their financial position,
- understand the benefits and drawbacks of different options to manage financial issues,
- develop budgets and cash flows,
- negotiate with creditors,
- access dispute resolution services,
- understand their rights and access broader professional advice and support,
- access government and community grants, programs or schemes

In providing financial counselling, a counsellor cannot:

- provide counselling or other services to individuals who are not eligible clients,
- charge any form of payment for providing counselling—this includes receiving in-kind payments, or charging for any expenses associated with delivery of services,
- complete any sections of client documentation (i.e. succession plans, application forms etc) where legal, financial, accounting or taxation advice is required,
- provide advice on accounting, taxation or legal aspects of a client's enterprise,
- provide advice on debt agreement administration under the Bankruptcy Act 1966 (Cth),
- provide family, social or emotional counselling,
- provide technical advice for clients' enterprises,
- provide advice on specific (branded) products,
- provide advice on insurance products, investment products, investment strategies and plans,
- representing clients at Administrative Appeals Tribunals, or other legal processes such as a court of law,
- Act as a business operator's advocate or representative in dealings with government agencies,
- Use unrealistic value or assets, productions, or prices in a financial analysis or application for assistance

Minimum qualifications

Rural Financial Counsellors will be required to hold a Diploma of Financial Counselling or a Diploma of Financial Counselling (rural). New counsellors can commence employment without the minimum qualification, provided they:

- have been assessed by the service provider as having a base-level of skills and experience in a related financial capability role suitable for the provision of financial counselling, and
- begin the diploma within 6 months.

Preference will be given to applicants with proven qualifications and/or skills and experience in finance, business and or law. Knowledge of the agriculture sector is considered very desirable and the successful applicants would be an excellent communicators and networkers.

A current driver's licence is essential and frequent travelling is required. Work and travel time outside of 8am – 5pm would be required. The successful applicants will often be required to work without direct day-to-day supervision.

The successful applicants may be required to undertake ongoing professional development other than the diploma.

Police Checks

Successful applicants may be required to undergo a police check.

The fitness of applicants to perform the role of a Rural Financial Counsellor may depend on the results of a criminal history check performed by the relevant police authority.
