3. ACCOUNTABILITY AND EXTENT OF AUTHORITY:

- This position is required to provide specialist advice to clients, regulate buildings and building construction, providing advice and develop policy applicable to the Building Compliance and Building Approval functions.
- The specialist advice or regulation of buildings and building construction is generally governed by the interpretation of legislation and codes of practice. The freedom to act is subject to professional and regulatory review. The impact of decisions made or advice given may have a substantial impact on individual clients or classes of clients.
- The position requires input into policy development within the conduct of the Building Surveying profession, within a local government setting.

Moreland City Council

- The position requires proven ability to operate at a high level with limited supervision.

4. JUDGEMENT AND DECISION MAKING:

- The position exercises the authority and accountability given to a relevant building surveyor as detailed in the Building Act.
- The position exercises powers and functions under the Building Act, as delegated by the Municipal Building Surveyor.
- The position requires the application of specialist knowledge to situations, which require the understanding and interpretation of building legislation and codes to new and sometimes complex situations. Such situations require a degree of problem solving using methods, procedures and processes generally developed from building and local government administration theory or precedent. However the position requires the need to recognise when these established techniques are not appropriate to a given situation.
- The position requires judgements and decisions, frequently involving the protection of life and safety, guided by the interpretation of building legislation and/or Council policies and procedures, to be made during investigations and inspections. Guidance from the Unit Manager is not always available.
- The position requires a level of policy development, particularly in the area of continuous improvement in relation to building surveying practice. The ability to research and analyse service options before a recommendation is made is essential.

5. SPECIALIST KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS:

- A demonstrated ability to understand and interpret plans, specifications and other documentation for the purposes of assessing whether building work is carried out in accordance with the documentation and Building Act, Regulations and Building Codes.
- Sound knowledge of construction techniques for all classes of buildings and types of construction, including domestic, residential, industrial, commercial and multi-storey.
- Detailed knowledge of the Building Act, Building Regulations, Building Code of Australia, Codes and subordinate legislation, the underlying principles of their application and an ability to apply legislative provisions, where appropriate, to solve problems.

Moreland City Council

- Demonstrated sound understanding of investigatory methods and enforcement tools available under the Building Act and Regulations and an ability to make appropriate judgements and decisions, using the available regulatory tools, to move non-compliant situations quickly into compliance.
- Demonstrated sound understanding of the function of Building Surveying within the context of Council's long-term goals and objectives, policies and procedures, together with the role of the Private Building Surveyor function.
- Proven capacity to operate at a senior level within a multi-disciplinary team, to deputise for the Municipal Building Surveyor in representing Council before industry groups and at appeals before the Building Appeals Board.
- Sound understanding of Council's values and the political and legal context of the local government sector.
- Sound understanding and demonstrated use of PC based computer system software, particularly software used in the management of municipal building services data management and customer requests.
- Ability to effectively communicate with clients and citizens from diverse backgrounds so as to provide sound professional advice.

7. MANAGEMENT SKILLS:

- Ability to manage time, set priorities and planning and organising one's own work and where appropriate that of others to ensure Unit outcomes are met within defined individual and Unit key performance indicators in the most efficient way possible within the resources available despite conflicting pressures.
- Ability to assist team members (Assistant Building Surveyors and Cadet) to meet day-to-day work outcomes.
- Ability to monitor one's workload and raise issues as they arise with your team leader and, if applicable, negotiate modifications to one's workload, within the context of a team environment, to provide overall benefit to the Unit function.

8. INTERPERSONAL SKILLS:

- Ability to effectively communicate with and gain co-operation and assistance from builders, owners, ratepayers and clients to ensure compliance with Building Act and Council requirements.
- Ability to conciliate and resolve problems between parties involved in disputes over building matters.
- Ability to work co-operatively with other Council employees to resolve intra-organisational problems, and motivate, mentor and develop staff of the Buildings Services Unit.
- Ability to prepare correspondence, Council and management reports and industry submissions, on behalf of Council.
- Ability to network with Building Surveyors within the local government and building industry context, so as to discuss and resolve specialist problems.
- Demonstrated ability to work as a highly effective team member, to motivate and coach staff and gain the support and cooperation of others.

9. QUALIFICATIONS AND EXPERIENCE:

- Registration or near registration as a Building Surveyor – Unlimited with the Victorian Building Authority.
- A tertiary qualification or the equivalent in Building Surveying.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Sound knowledge and experience in carrying out Building Surveying enforcement work and building permit work will be highly regarded.
- A sound understanding and demonstrated use of PC-based computer system software, particularly software used in Municipal Building surveying offices.
- A current driver's licence is required.
